

RE-ENTRY TO DEGREE PROGRAM AFTER LAPSE OF TIME

For reinstatement to the same degree program after more than two years have elapsed since the last enrollment, students should contact the program director for guidance. Students may be required to reapply via Admissions and be evaluated to resume their studies. Reinstatement into the program is not guaranteed once enrollment has lapsed for two years.

Previous course work will be reviewed by the program director. Courses taken while previously admitted may be applied to the degree if they are still part of the program curriculum within the time limit and are approved by the program director. Any courses not approved must be repeated or replaced with additional courses approved by the program director.
