Why Study Management?

The rapid and continuous changes taking place in our global economy require skilled managers and leaders to ensure effective performance of their organizations. Organizations of all sizes in all sectors of our economy face unprecedented challenges that demand informed strategic decision-making and principled leadership.

The programs of study in management are designed to allow students to develop the critical skills required for success in today's economy and marketable abilities expected by employers. Courses and programs of study within the Department of Management emphasize the development of leadership skills, entrepreneurial abilities, global awareness, ethical decision-making, human resource management skills, technological competency, and critical thinking. Ongoing curricula development ensures that course offerings and content reflect the current practices and various challenges faced by organizations. Because management is a broad field, the concentrations in Leadership and Management, Entrepreneurship, Human Resource Management, and International Business offer students a choice of a program that meets their specific career objectives.

Regardless of the concentration area, all students will find several recurring themes in their course work:

- the impact of technology on management practices;
- awareness and understanding of the global environment in which organizations operate and managers make decisions;
- legal and ethical dilemmas faced by managers in carrying out their responsibilities.

Admissions

Requirements for Admission to the Business Administration Major

Students are admitted to the major in Business Administration (BUAD) after first being admitted to Towson University. Admission to TU does not guarantee admission to the major. In order to be admitted, students must satisfy the following requirements:

1. Cumulative GPA of 2.00 or higher for all course work.
2. Successful completion of each of the courses required for admission to the major with a grade of C or higher. Required courses can be viewed on each concentration page within the requirements section.

Degree candidates intending to major in Business Administration are designated as "pre-Business Administration" (PBUA) until admission into the BUAD major. Students are required to meet each term with their assigned faculty adviser to evaluate their progress toward completing the requirements for admission to the major and the degree.

At the start of each term and before registration, the CBE Student Academic and Career Services office will notify PBUA students of their admission status by email to their TU email addresses. Students will not be allowed to take upper-level "majors-only" CBE courses until being admitted to the Business Administration major.
