INTERDISCIPLINARY PROGRAMS

Interdisciplinary programs have become an increasingly important part of Towson University’s role as a premier metropolitan university. The rise of new interdisciplinary fields and the revision of traditional curricula are reflected in the diverse group of interdisciplinary programs offered by TU. These programs enhance the strong liberal arts and sciences core while preparing students for professional and applied fields. They also provide opportunities for new forms of student learning and build on the strengths of the faculty.

As TU strives to provide all of its students with the knowledge and skills for entry into the professional world, interdisciplinary programs will continue to expand throughout the curriculum. These programs will also help to create an environment that stimulates commitment to lifelong learning and allows for continued personal growth.

Master’s Degree Programs

- Global Humanities
- Integrated Homeland Security Management
- Jewish Studies
- Professional Studies
  - Professional Studies - Art History Concentration
  - Professional Studies - Individualized Plan of Study
- Social Science
- Women’s and Gender Studies

Post-Baccalaureate Certificate Programs

- Family-Professional Collaboration
- Organizational Change
- Security Assessment and Management
- Women’s and Gender Studies