Hate Crimes & Bias Incidents

The University strives to create a learning environment that is inclusive of diverse groups, ideas, and opinions and that is sensitive to individual rights of expression. We actively promote a campus community that allows for understanding and civility among those living, working, teaching, learning and studying, while discussing, discovering and debating different viewpoints. Acts of destruction or violence which are motivated by animosity against a person or group because of race, color, religion, sexual orientation, gender, disability, national origin, or homelessness, or which infringe on the rights and freedom of others will not be tolerated at Towson University. The University will investigate and respond to all reports of hate crimes and bias incidents.

Sexual Misconduct & Assault (Title IX)

The University does not discriminate against students, faculty or staff based on sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression or pregnancy status in any of its programs or activities, including but not limited to educational programs, employment and admission. Sexual harassment, including sexual violence, is a kind of sex discrimination and is prohibited by Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 and university policies. The Office of Inclusion and Institutional Equity coordinates Towson University's compliance with Title IX and university policies, and responds to reports of sexual harassment and misconduct by providing outreach, resources and investigations.
