- Major in Business Administration - Economics
- Minor in Economics

A student majoring in economics may declare a second major and obtain a degree certifying that both majors have been completed.

Why Study Economics?

- To prepare for jobs in:
 - Government, such as research assistant, program analyst and budget analyst. Government economists analyze economic conditions and estimate the economic impact of public policy.
 - Business and Consulting, such as financial analyst, long-range planner and stockbroker. Business economists provide information on market conditions, forecasting, government regulations, facilities planning, product planning and pricing.
- To prepare for graduate school in such programs as Law, Economics, Public Policy, or Business Journalism.
- To blend business and economics by taking either an Economics major with a Business Administration minor or a Business Administration major with a track in Economics.
- To have the ability to analyze the American economic system and international and domestic economic forces that determine production, prices, profits and incomes.

Mission Statement

The Economics Department is committed to an excellent economics education built on a comprehensive liberal arts foundation to enable graduates to excel as leaders in a dynamic business environment and/or a career in public service by means of individualized student advising, professional work experience, teaching excellence, and commitment to the highest academic and ethical standards.

Admissions

Requirements for Admission to the Business Administration Major

Students are admitted to the major in Business Administration (BUAD) after first being admitted to Towson University. Admission to TU does not guarantee admission to the major. In order to be admitted, students must satisfy the following requirements:

- Cumulative GPA of 2.00 or higher for all course work.
- Grade of C or higher in each of the Courses Required for Admission to Major (required courses can be viewed on each concentration page within the requirements section).

Degree candidates intending to major in Business Administration are designated as "pre-Business Administration" (PBUA) until admission into the BUAD major. Students are required to meet each term with their assigned faculty adviser to evaluate their progress toward completing the requirements for admission to the major and the degree.

At the start of each term and before registration, the CBE Student Academic and Career Services office will notify PBUA students of their admission status by email to their TU email addresses. Students will not be allowed to take upper-level "majors-only" CBE courses until being admitted to the Business Administration major.
