

ADMISSION

Admission to the graduate programs at Towson University is granted to applicants whose academic and personal qualifications give promise of success in graduate study. The applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university and satisfy minimum GPA requirements.

Students seeking admission to a graduate degree program, or to take courses carrying graduate credit, must apply prior to first enrollment. Applicants must file an application together with all credentials and official transcripts of all college work. Some programs have selection cut-off dates and admit students on a competitive, space-available basis. Applications are available online (<https://www.towson.edu/academics/graduate/admissions/index.html>).

The Graduate Catalog

The Graduate Catalog contains the academic regulations governing graduate studies at Towson University. It also includes information regarding programs, course offerings and the application process. It is available online (<https://www.towson.edu/academics/graduate/admissions/index.html>). A schedule of courses for the coming term and registration information are available online (<https://inside.towson.edu/intranetstudents>).
