

MAJOR IN HISTORY

Requirements

In addition to the Core Curriculum requirements, History majors are required to complete 42 units. The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by adding a foreign language to the major course requirements. The language requirement can be met by completing the intermediate courses (or their equivalent) of a modern foreign language. All History majors may transfer up to 18 units toward the major.

Departmental Honors Program

The Department of History honors program allows undergraduates to develop their critical thinking and historical skills in a rigorous and collaborative environment that guarantees personal attention. The program is a two-semester sequence of independent study, the culmination of which is the writing of a senior thesis—a significant scholarly research paper prepared under the close supervision of a faculty member.

History majors with qualifying GPAs (a minimum 3.70 GPA in history and a minimum 3.50 cumulative GPA) can complete an honors thesis under the direction of an Assistant, Associate or Full Professor in the Department. Students who are interested in pursuing departmental honors should consult the Department Chair or the Honors Thesis Coordinator during their junior year.

Students apply to the program upon reaching 75 units, or three semesters before expected graduation. Once accepted, students register for HIST 498 under the supervision of their thesis adviser in one semester and then HIST 499 in the next semester. Students must receive a grade of A or A- in HIST 498 to register for HIST 499. HIST 499 fulfills the major capstone requirement, taking the place of the capstone seminar (HIST 486).

Departmental Honors are designated on a graduate's transcript when a student successfully completes HIST 498 and HIST 499. Students pursuing departmental honors are not required to be members of the Honors College. Departmental honors are distinct from Latin honors (cum laude, etc.) and from enrollment in the Honors College.
