

COMBINED MAJOR IN PSYCHOLOGY AND SOCIOLOGY-ANTHROPOLOGY

Normally, completion of two separate majors in Psychology and Sociology-Anthropology with a concentration in Sociology requires 80–81 units (41 in psychology and 39–40 in sociology). However, students who are interested in both majors can select the combined major option in Psychology and Sociology-Anthropology, which consists of courses offered by both departments.

The combined major option requires a total of 68 units:

² In sociology-anthropology, the electives must include five courses from the Upper-Level Sociology Electives section of the curriculum, as described in that section, and one course from the Application, Engagement and Advanced Study area (18 units). Students interested in declaring the combined major should consult an adviser in both departments to review the specific requirements and the approved topical or content elective courses prior to taking any classes.
